on-line applications

Our printed and electronic titles are special thanks to the unique data that we have been developing for years, constantly extending and updating it. We have published over 400 printed titles of our own, in total for over 50 languages in various combinations. Lingea has also extensive experience in the development of desktop, web and mobile applications for clients worldwide.

We grant licenses for our products, especially for dictionary data that have a broad scope of use. Above all, we provide customized data according to the client's needs, and therefore we place a great emphasis on the maximum utility that can be derived from product development (for example, specialized phrase books or dictionaries for less frequent language combinations for language courses, etc.)
